IMPACT AND SUSTAINABILITY

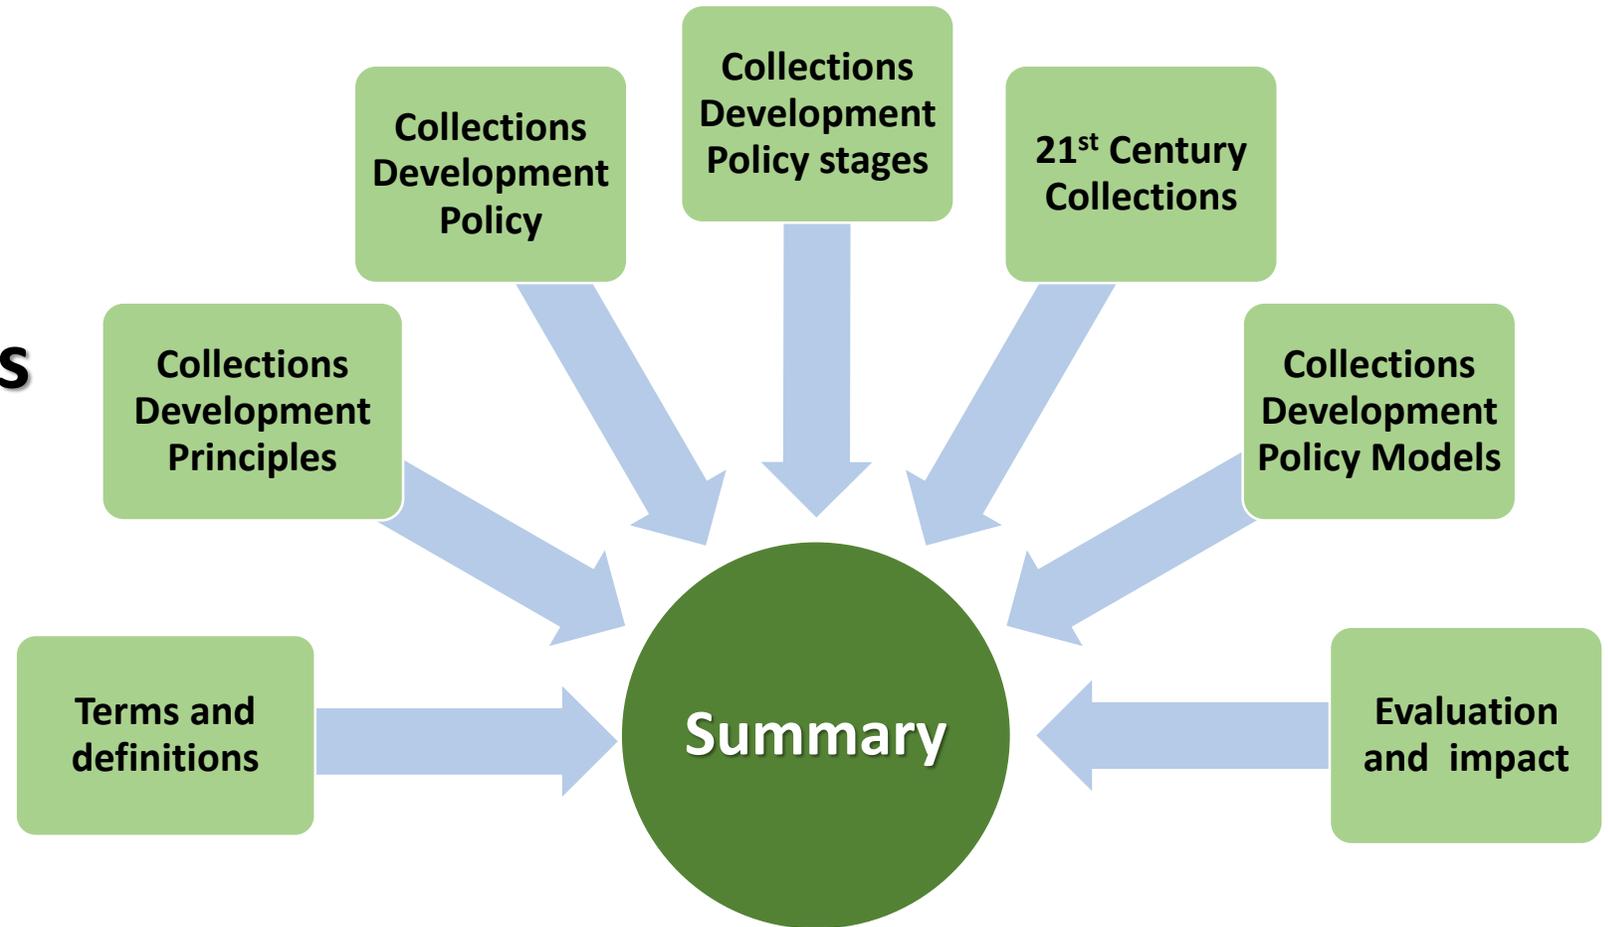

- Investing in librarians' knowledge and reforms has a sustainable influence and impact on the development and modernization of higher education institutions in Armenia, Moldova and Belarus.
- The library staff skills development directly and significantly benefits all library users; students, teachers, researchers and non-specific users.
- The opportunity to have fast, open, and quality access to information directly contributes to the development of critical thinking and lifelong learning.
- Creating a support network of partner institutions and their integration into other international networks will enhance information flow and collaboration opportunities
- Elaboration of a policy for library collection development plays an essential role in ensuring quality services, including the various partnerships and associations.

Collections are the essence of the library

The main concern
of libraries is to meet the
information needs
and study of users

The collections are the foundation of
any functioning
libraries, without collections library as a social institution
can not exist

Library collections
are very important
from their perspective as information and
resource materials.

They are the essence of the library as an institution that meets the
information needs
of the community.
